

Street Improvement Decided on by City Council Friday Eve

East Fellows and East Second Considered; Pleas Received

The city council last night passed a resolution asking the state highway department's approval of street improvements on East Fellows street and East Second street, the cost of which was estimated at $35,000, to be paid from motor fuel tax funds. The council's resolution now goes to the state department for approval. A petition carrying 25 signatures and requesting the construction of a sanitary sewer at Chicago and Fargo avenues was placed on file by the council.

The proposed improvements would be made on East Fellows from Dement avenue east to the east city limits, and on East Second street from Galena avenue to Artesian avenue.

In what was a busy evening, the council also approved a zoning ordinance amendment, receiving a petition from the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and heard the complaints of a group of west side citizens.

The zoning ordinance amendment changed from a residential to a commercial classification an oil station owned by George Wolford at Chicago and Walnut avenues, where he plans additional building. A public hearing on the matter at 7:30 last night developed no opposition.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce group presented a petition asking for daylight saving time here, and the group from the west side registered a complaint on conditions in their neighborhood, where they said a junk yard is being operated and pigs are being kept within the city limits, against city ordinances and the will of the people.

Prompt Action Promised

The council promised prompt action to both groups.

A petition carrying the signatures of 2,638 citizens, including 95 business men, was presented to the council by the junior business group, asking that the city change to daylight saving time April 29 and end it on the same date on which Chicago returns to Standard time.

The group, through James E. Bales, their spokesman, told the council that the petition was representative of all the citizens, and revealed that more than 80 per cent of the Reynolds plant personnel, 75 per cent of Freeman's, and 90 per cent of the Dixon Cut Sole workers favor the change and signed the petition. More than 200 workers at the I. N. U. plant also favored the change and were signers, Bales said.

The group from the west side was protesting against the presence of pigs within the city limits, and a junk yard which they said John Nelson was operating on Factory street.

Claiming the pigs owned by Charles Baker caused discomfort in the neighborhood and that ashes were being dumped on the city streets there by Nelson, the group was promised full cooperation by the council when they demanded prompt action in stopping objectionable practices.

Mayor William V. Slothower, in answering queries as to why the police force isn't enlarged, declared that the addition of personnel was being considered.

Owner-Occupancy of Homes Mounts

Washington, April 6.—(AP)—A "spectacular" wartime increase in the occupation of homes by owners contributes to the scarcity of dwellings for veterans, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported today.

"Despite high prices, the desperate need for homes forced thousands to buy," said the federal agency in a report showing "substantial shift" from tenancy to owner-occupancy in 122 cities.

"The forced purchase of homes by persons not yet ready financially to assume the long-term cost of home ownership, or by persons whose residence in the community was only temporary, has created for thousands an unstable and insecure type of home ownership."

One-fourth of the cities surveyed showed gains of more than 36 per cent in the proportion of dwellings occupied by owners during the period between April 1940 and late 1945, the BLS said.

Half the cities showed an increase of 28 percent or more. The other fourth had increases of 21 percent or less. Eight places experienced gains of more than 50 percent.

Poland Wants U. N. To End Relations With Franco Rule

London, April 6.—(AP)—The Polish embassy announced today Poland had instructed her delegate to the United Nations Security Council to bring up the matter of diplomatic relations of member nations with Spain.

"Poland considers that the United Nations should break off diplomatic relations with the Franco government," the statement said.

The Warsaw radio announced last night that the Polish government had decided to recognize the exiled Spanish Republican government of Jose Giral. The embassy statement was made in reporting the government's action.

"The decision of the Polish government was taken in view of the fact that the present regime in Spain is endangering international peace and that peace is indivisible."

"It should be added that Poland feels entitled to raise the Spanish question before the United Nations not only as a member of the organization but also remembering that some thousands of Poles have fought and have been killed in the defense of democratic and Republican Spain."

France Awaits Action

"During the World War against the axis, Polish soldiers escaping from France, and elsewhere in order to join the forces of the United Nations fighting against Nazi aggression were imprisoned by Franco when crossing the Spanish border and jailed in the ill-famed concentration camp, Miranda Del Erbo."

In New York last night the French ambassador to the United States, Henri Bonnet, said France had no intention of bringing up the matter of Generalissimo Francisco Franco's regime at the session.

Claims for Jobless Pay Will Decrease Soon, Figures Say

Veterans' List Goes to New High; Civilian Total is Down

Washington, April 6.—(AP)—About 3,100,000 people, veterans and civilians, are drawing unemployment pay weekly but—

1. The number of veterans getting the money weekly—1,500,000 is increasing, may keep climbing for at least another month.

2. The number of civilians getting jobless pay—1,600,000—may be starting to drop from the high points reached in strike-bound months.

Take the veterans first.

By the end of February, about 1,200,000 were getting jobless pay weekly. The number has risen to 1,500,000.

The peak, it was said at the Veterans Administration, may not be reached for four weeks or more. Demobilization is still going on.

Now take the civilians.

Decreases Due Soon

The average weekly number of civilians getting unemployment pay was running about 100,000 in May and June, 1945, before Japan quit.

Reconversion started and the number of people thrown out of jobs and seeking unemployment pay started to rise.

Here's the rise, with the figures showing the average weekly number of civilians drawing unemployment pay:

September—612,057; October—1,271,727; November—1,313,456; December—1,319,005; January—629,000; February—1,594,000.

(March figures are not available but probably will be fairly close to the February figure.)

Factors causing the rise were: plant shutdowns, reconversion and thus some layoffs, and civilians displaced by returning veterans.

Before a person can draw unemployment pay, he must file a claim—called an initial claim—and then wait several weeks before beginning to draw the pay.

There has been a decline in initial claims, which will mean a drop in people drawing pay.

Here's How It Works

Here's what veterans get and

Will of Edith C. Raymond Is Filed

The will of Edith C. Raymond, filed for probate in County court here yesterday afternoon, split her property between her son, Donald B. Raymond, Dixon, a daughter, Dorothy Crawford, Mansfield, O., and her granddaughter, Nancy Elizabeth Pearsall, 18, Long Beach, Calif. Raymond was named executor of the will.

Household equipment was bequeathed to Raymond and Mrs. Crawford, and all clothing and jewelry was bequeathed to Mrs. Crawford. The remainder of the property was ordered equally among Raymond, Mrs. Crawford, and Nancy Pearsall.

The will specified that if Nancy Pearsall was not 21 years of age at the time of Mrs. Raymond's death, her share was to be given to her in quarterly amounts, commencing at the first distribution, the next payment two years after date of death, and annually thereafter until she has received her full share.

OPA Bounces from Pan Into Hot Fire

Washington, April 6.—(AP)—The OPA bounced today from the congressional frying pan into the fire.

The bill prolonging the price agency's life for a year beyond June 30 headed toward red hot debate on the house floor after the banking committee voted far-reaching revisions and curtailment of its powers.

An OPA spokesman said the committee action, if sustained by the house and senate, would hike retail prices on automobiles, refrigerators, radios and many other items, with consumer costs increasing by more than half a billion dollars this year.

Nevertheless, congressional friends of OPA said the drubbing the agency got in the committee was not as bad as they feared.

Nevertheless

Rep. Monroney (D-Okla.) a banking committee member, commented:

"The bill brought out by the committee is not all that I wanted, but it is better than I expected in view of tremendous pressure brought by opponents of OPA. It would result in some price increases, but I do not believe it is a break-through."

The committee brushed aside the pleas for an early end of OPA made by the National Association of Manufacturers, the United States Chamber of Commerce and some other business groups, and followed President Truman's recommendation that the agency be continued for a full year beyond June 30.

Far-Reaching Revisions

But it wrote into the OPA extension bill yesterday these far-reaching revisions:

1. A requirement that OPA restore the retail profit margins it has trimmed for a large number of items—autos, refrigerators, radios, etc. This revises the OPA cost absorption policy which has required retail outlets to bear a portion of the increased cost of production by reduction of mark-up or discount margins.

2. A directive that price controls be liquidated in various lines as supply comes into balance with demand, with the gradual decontrol responsibility assigned directly to Truman rather than to OPA.

3. A provision for early termination of the government's $2,000,000,000 annual subsidy program, including payments to reduce consumer food costs. This amendment would slash subsidy payments in the next fiscal year by 25 per cent, or $500,000,000, and require the government to get out of the subsidy business by June 30, 1947.

4. A repealer for OPA's maximum average price policy by which the agency forces manufacturers to produce low cost clothing.

An OPA official estimated that the revision of the cost absorption program, if finally made law, would boost automobile costs to consumers in the next 12 months.

Wermuth is Manager of Tigers Air Circus

Davenport, Ia., April 6.—(AP)—Maj. Arthur J. Wermuth, widely known as the "One Man Army of Bataan" will manage the "Flying Tigers Air Circus" which will open at Pueblo, Colo., next month, Ray Doane, business manager of the group, announced here today.

The aerial circus, Doane said, will tour throughout the United States this summer and members of the entourage will include mostly veteran pilots of World War two from many sections of the country.

Committee Plan to Revise Draft Laws Stuns Army Chiefs

Indiana Congressman To Support Nine-Month Trial Draft Bill

Washington, April 6.—(AP)—The house military committee flabbergasted the army today with this planless formula for continuing the draft—extend the law nine months but ban induction of anyone becoming eligible during that period.

This novel proposal, which quickly attracted formidable support, was advanced as the nation stood by to hear President Truman's Army Day address in Chicago which is expected to carry a renewed appeal for straightaway extension of selective service another year.

The no-induction measure was offered by Rep. Hainess (R-Ind.) yesterday as a substitute for an Army-backed bill calling for continuing the draft under existing conditions for a year beyond its May 15 expiration date, but with service liability limited to 18 months.

Require Registration

The Hainess proposal, as amended, would require continued registrations under the selective service act, but limit inductions after May 15 exclusively to those who became eligible for service prior to that date, such as deferred students and others.

Committee members opposing the draft promptly lined up behind this formula and only a parliamentary situation prevented it coming to a vote at the session.

The committee put off a decision until next Tuesday, and opponents of the Hainess plan remarked it was just as well, for they feared they lacked the votes to block it yesterday.

There was little objection in the committee to a proposal limiting service of inductees to 18 months.

Geisha Girl Tips Army to Cache of Precious Metals

Tokyo, April 6.—(AP)—A Geisha girl's tip led today to discovery of two truckloads of precious metal ingots believed worth 30,000,000,000 (B) yen ($2,000,000,000) in the mud of Tokyo Bay.

An informant said he had been told by Japanese army officers the money was to be used "in building up a greater Japan after things have quieted down."

The ingots were located by Lt. E. V. Nielsen, Stamford, Conn., an officer in the 32nd military government company.

The original tip came, Nielsen said, from a Geisha girl. She told a Japanese employed by a civilian interpreter for the military government that a large sum of gold had been dumped in Tokyo Bay.

Nielsen said developments indicated her story was a planted tip from Social Club.

Investigation showed the girl's story came from a small social club composed of elderly Japanese small shopkeepers and businessmen.

"Finally," Nielsen said, "one of the social group told me that because the militarists had been the ruin of Japan we didn't want them to get hold of the huge supply of precious metals." He said he trusted the Americans and for that reason would tell the whereabouts of a laborer who worked in dumping ingots into the bay."

The laborer designated a dock

Work All Night on IHC Dispute

Washington, April 6.—(AP)—Negotiations went on all night without pause and continued today in a week-long drive to settle the 76-day International Harvester Company strike.

Differences over allowance rates for piece workers of the big farm implement firm still reportedly were at issue. On most other points both sides are agreed and have put their terms down in writing.

The government has kept representatives of the company and the CIO Farm Equipment Workers Union in session since last Sunday morning. The negotiations have been interrupted only for meals and short periods for sleep, but they were unbroken last night.

The government wants to get the 30,000 striking workers back to their jobs making tools to produce food.

The negotiations here with federal conciliators have concerned a dozen different issues. Wages were not involved, however, because both sides had agreed earlier on an 18-cent-an-hour increase, as recommended by a fact-finding commission.

Vet Hospital Guard is Centenced for Assault

Chicago, April 6.—(AP)—John Gotowits, 59, of Chicago, is under six months jail sentence after his conviction of a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon upon a mental patient at the Veterans hospital, Downey, Ill., where he was an attendant.

Federal Judge Philip L. Sullivan sentenced Gotowits yesterday after a brief bench trial in which the prosecution contended the former guard struck a patient with a belt buckle. Similar charges against James Flanagan, 58, of Thompsonville, Ill., were dismissed for lack of evidence.

Burns Prove Fatal to Three Children

Kansas City, April 6.—(AP)—Three children died from burns incurred in an early morning fire here today, and their parents and three sisters were hospitalized when flames swept a three-story frame rooming house.

The dead children were Herbert Howard Bell, Jr., 13; Martha 7 and Harvey, 5. The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bell, and three other children, Loretta, 11, Betty, 10; and Nancy Louise, six months, suffered serious but not dangerous burns, according to hospital attendants. A seventh child, Wayne, 2, escaped injury.

An overturned oil lamp was the cause of the fire, according to the fire department report.

None of the other estimated 25 persons living in the rooming house was burned seriously though enough to require hospitalization.

Congress Aims to Keep Firm Grip on Atomic Machinery

Washington, April 6.—(AP)—Congress reached out today to plant a finger permanently on the control switch of any domestic machinery governing future atomic energy developments.

A special senate committee was disclosed to have written into the legislation it has been preparing for months a provision for establishing a 14-man joint senate-house group authorized to make a continuing study of atomic controls and to sponsor legislation affecting them.

Members who declined to be quoted by name said they expected this bi-partisan committee of seven senators and seven house members to serve as one of the breaks on the unprecedentedly wide powers bestowed on a civilian atomic energy commission under terms of the bill.

As the measure is now drawn—subject to final action by the special senate atomic energy committee next week—the commission could do just about anything it feels necessary to advance atomic developments.

Would License Use

It would produce and own all fissionable materials and radio-active byproducts. It could distribute them in this country, with or without charge, for research and medical therapy. Under the supervision of congress and the president, it would license the industrial use of atomic energy.

The commission would direct research and development on military phases, and, when the president approved, could produce atomic bombs and other similar weapons. The president would direct when and in what quantities it would deliver atomic weapons to the armed forces.

The commission's ownership would extend beyond fissionable materials and atomic weapons to all of the plants and facilities for processing and producing fissionable materials. It would own all patents and inventions and previously-constructed property, like the Manhattan district installations where the bomb was produced.

"In a manner such as to assure the common defense and security," the commission would control the

Number of Workers Off Jobs Mounting; Nears 800,000 Mark

New Strikes Threatened; End of Harvester Walkout Near?

(By The Associated Press)

The ranks of the idle because of labor disputes moved toward the 800,000 mark today as current work stoppages forced thousands of workers to leave their jobs and new strikes threatened.

On the credit side of the labor strife was the hope held for the ending of the two long strikes involving more than 100,000 workers in plants of the Westinghouse Electric Co., and the International Harvester Co. About 787,000 remained idle throughout the country because of labor disputes.

The six-day old work stoppage by 400,000 AFL soft coal miners brought curtailed business in the steel mills and railroads and at least 12,000 workers in those two industries were made idle. They included 8,000 in U.S. Steel Corporation subsidiaries and more than 4,000 on coal-carrying railroads.

In Detroit, where a transportation strike continued for the sixth day, approximately 51,000 auto plant workers in the motor city area were idle because of work stoppages and parts and materials shortages. A strike of 115 CIO United Automobile Workers Union truck drivers at the Briggs Manufacturing Company's Mack Avenue plant resulted in 12,000 workers being sent home, while 5,000 workers at the Plymouth division of Chrysler Corp., were made idle when deliveries were halted.

Other Auto Workers Idle

Other workers made idle because of materials or parts shortages include 18,500 at Ford Motor Co., 8,000 at Hudson Motor Car Co., while 7,500 Packard production employees have been idle since Jan. 24 due to curtailed supplies of bearings.

As the transit strike in Akron, O., also entered its sixth day, 400 AFL street car men's union in Scranton, Pa., voted to strike Monday, after first settling the walkout for 2 a. m. today. The union is seeking wage increases from the present 82 cents to $1.25 for bus and trolley operators and 25 per cent pay hikes for other employees.

A strike of 1,400 AFL employees of the Cincinnati Gas & Electric Company threatened but federal conciliators met with union and company officials in an attempt to avert the walkout which would disrupt the Cincinnati area's power, light and transit services.

One Bright Prospect

Day shift employees voted to strike to enforce union demands for an hourly increase of 20 cents and night shift workers were to vote today. The union, which rejected a company offer of a 15 cents an hour hike, said approval by the night shift workers would be followed by setting a time for the walkout, probably "within a few days."

The 76-day old strike by 30,000

US Military Might Parades in Chicago

Chicago, April 6.—(AP)—America's victorious army today was on parade in the sky and on city streets before a nation at peace celebrating Army Day.

Chicago was the focal point in the Army Day programs planned in several cities, including Washington and New York. The nation's second largest city was host to President Truman and several high ranking army officers, headed by General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Highlight of Truman's first visit to Chicago since he became president nearly a year ago will be his address in Soldier Field at 3 p. m. (CST). His arrival at the big lake front stadium was to be marked by a 21-gun salute as a crowd, expected to be about 85,000 greets the President. His speech was to be carried by the four major radio networks and at the conclusion the presidential party was to return to Washington.

In Chicago as in other cities holding Army Day celebrations, commemorating the date of America's entry into World War I, the country's military might were on display. Army posts and hospitals were open to the public to visit and air bases featured performances by warplanes and displays of equipment.

Other parades were to be held in Washington, New York, San Francisco, San Antonio, Kansas City, New Orleans, Little Rock, Ark., Wichita and Parsons, Kan., Fort Knox, Ky., Lawton, Okla., El Paso, Houston, Waco, Austin and San Angelo, Tex.; Gadsden, Ala., Columbus, Ga., and Monterey and Salinas, Calif.

Keitel Lists Three Worst War Deeds

Nuernberg, April 6.—(AP)—Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel, former chief of the German high command, listed for the international military tribunal today the "three worst things I had to do against my conscience" in serving Adolf Hitler.

He testified that these were:

1. Ordering warfare in the Soviet Union which violated civilized rules.

2. Sanctioning the Gestapo execution of 50 escaped British RAF prisoners of war in 1944 and the lynch law against "terror" fliers.

3. Issuing a decree for the liquidation of patriots in occupied western countries.

These decisions, which he attributed to Hitler but admitted signing, were "most against my education as a German officer and my inner voice," Keitel said.

British prosecutor Sir David Maxwell Fyfe traced Keitel's alleged complicity in fostering Gestapo terror from 1942 through 1944.

An operation whereby Gestapo agents spirited suspected resistance leaders from their native countries to death in Germany was admitted by Keitel to be "extremely cruel and brutal." Families of those so executed were not informed, he said.

Handling of Iranian Case Adds Much to UN's World Power

Case Gives Tiny Nation a Chance in Disputes as Settlement Nears

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The security council of our new peace organization has come through its first major crisis well—encouraging the belief that at last we have a league of nations which will work.

The capable handling of the dangerous Russo-Iranian (Persian) situation has demonstrated that the United Nations security council not only is a competent intermediary but—what is more important—that the organization has the respect of the countries of the world. Indeed I think we may make it stronger and say that the authority of the United Nations is making itself felt.

And who can tell but what this auspicious beginning may lead to the great ideal proclaimed by Gen Douglas MacArthur yesterday when he called upon the nations to renounce their sovereign right to make war. The terrible alternative to that, as he pointed out, must be "another and totally destructive war—a war involving almost mass extermination."

Just a Step

Anyway, we've made a fair start, and the rainbow of peace still hangs in the sky. However, we should recognize this for what it is—just a beginning—just a step in the right direction.

The Persian difficulty has not been settled, and we shouldn't overlook that. As a matter of fact, having studied that complicated affair at first hand in Persia, I venture the guess that it's a long way from being settled to the complete satisfaction of all concerned.

That's not the main point. What has happened is that a tiny country (it happens to be Persia) has been able to get hearing of a grievance against a major power, the competence of the council to deal with the issue has been recognized, and the dispute has been guided onto a highway which may lead to ultimate settlement or which in any event may by-pass the use of force.

One of the most gratifying aspects of the case is that while the authority and dignity of the United Nations were maintained, the council didn't get tough in trying to force a settlement. The harsh question of sanctions didn't arise. Horse sense prevailed.

It's perhaps fortunate that this first test case should involve the rights of small nations as against those of the great powers. The fact that justice was evenly balanced between little Persia and mighty Russia will do much to encourage confidence in, and support of, the peace organization.

Big Strategic Value

The position of the Russo-Persian case now is that the security council has shelved it temporarily while the two countries negotiate. If they don't reach a satisfactory solution the United Nations will take a hand again.

As previously remarked, it's likely to take a long time to achieve agreement, and it will be surprising if the two countries ever reach a point that satisfies both of them. And we mustn't overlook that England, which also has a big interest in Persia, will be watching to see that her toes aren't stepped on.

The interests of Russia and England in Persia go back for generations, and are complicated. Persia's oil of course enters into the picture and that isn't without concern to Uncle Sam as well. However, as I see it the main point is that Persia is strategically important to Russia and Britain. The Soviet wants to be sure that her vital frontier in the Caspian zone is secure, and England can't forget that Persia provides a land highway into India. Last but not least, Russia long has had an eye on a warm water port at the head of the Persian Gulf. So you see there are momentous issues to be dealt with.

Christian Education Group's Drive for Funds is Announced

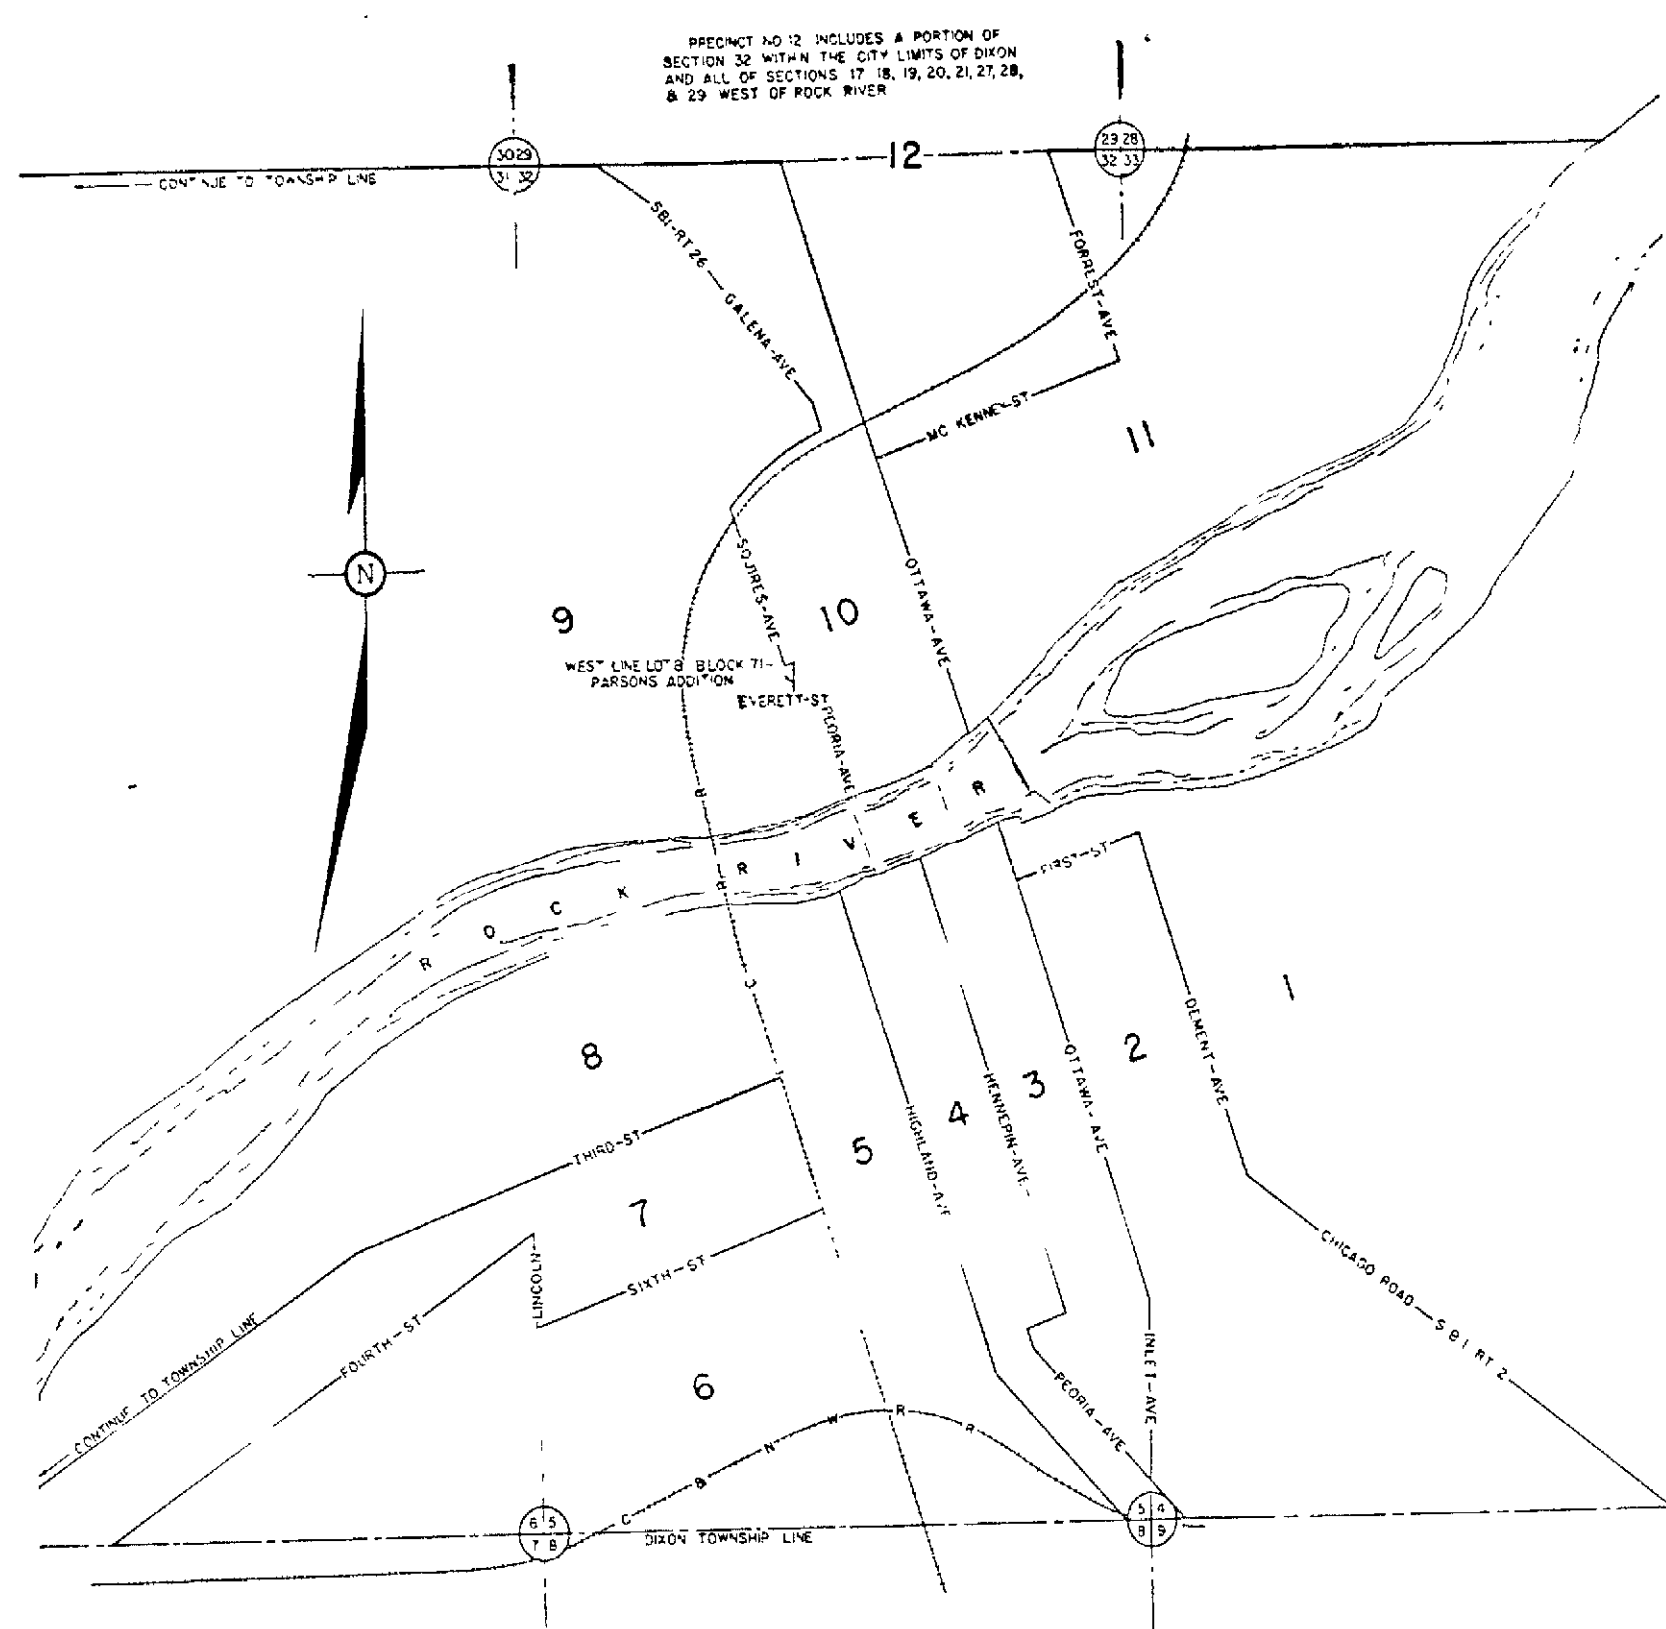

Plans are being perfected by the finance committee of the Dixon Council of Christian Education to have the fifth annual campaign for funds to support the work in the schools and vacation Bible schools this summer. The solicitation by house-to-house workers will be begun April 29 and last through that week.

Don D. Stauffer is chairman of the committee. Other members of the committee are B. Curtis Taylor, Rev. C. L. Wagner, and Pius Burgard. The special workers for the campaign will be announced later. # THE TELEGRAPH PRESENTS THE STORY OF THE LEE COUNTY PUBLIC HEALTH NURSE

Miss Gertrude Wilhelm, R. N., (standing at right) looks on as students in one of Dixon's schools undergo a dental examination. Miss Wilhelm is in charge of the health program in all of the Dixon schools. All children in the elementary schools here are being examined this year, with the local dentists taking turns in giving their time for the examinations. Awards are being given this year, as officials strive for complete dental correction in the eighth grades.

In an effort to ferret out hearing defects among students in the Dixon schools, every pupil in the city was examined last year with the audiometer, shown above as a student's hearing is checked. Those found to have defects last year were re-tested this year. High school students are examined every year.

Here Miss Wilhelm uses the Woods lamp in examining school children for ring worm of the scalp, which has been detected in some of the schools in this area this winter. All children in the Dixon school system have been examined by Miss Wilhelm with the Woods lamp, which is said to detect the ring worm before it is visible to the naked eye. All cases showing the ring worm are examined weekly, while all others are examined every three months.

Here Mrs. Lucia Haglock, R. N., a member of the Lee County Health department staff, weighs the baby of a serviceman while the child's mother looks on. The mother and child have received visits from the public health nurse as a part of the Emergency Maternity and Infant Care program, devised especially for the care of the families of servicemen. Families of all servicemen are eligible under this program.

The week beginning tomorrow has been designated as "Know Your Public Health Nurse Week." This is a time set aside to enable us to become better acquainted with her and her work. It is an opportunity to correct our vague understanding of the work she does in helping to guard the health of our community, and the help she can give with our health problems.

The fully-qualified public health nurse is a registered graduate nurse who has received additional special preparation in public health nursing. She has acquired skill in techniques for care of sick in the home, and she is trained to teach families some of these techniques. She has an understanding of problems and relationships of both family and community scope.

The public health nurse is also equipped to aid in the control and prevention of communicable diseases, and the prevention and control of tuberculosis. She is well versed in such subjects as child growth and development, nutrition, mental hygiene, and maternal and infant welfare.

In observance of this occasion and in order to provide the public with a first-hand view of this work, an open house will be held at the Lee County Health department office, 123 East First street, and the County Tuberculosis office, located in the Hospital annex, on Thursday, April 11, from 2 to 5 p. m.

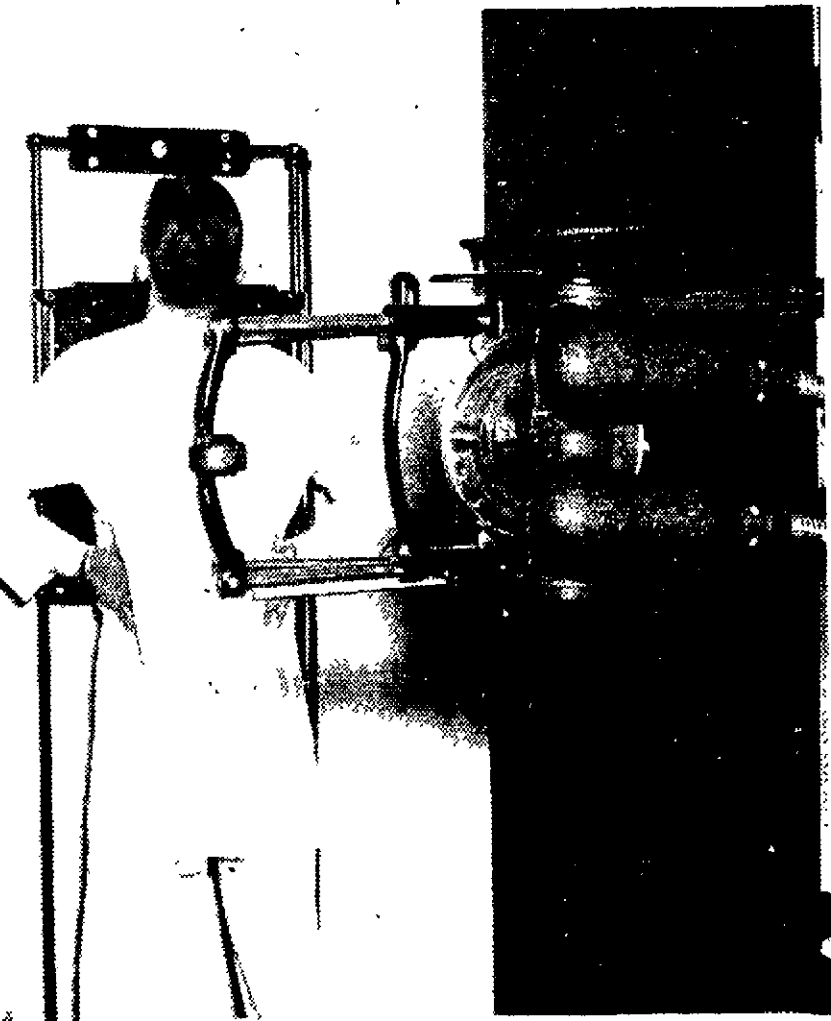

Here Marion Thomas, Public Health department Tuberculosis Nurse, is applying the Patch test, which is an early means of tuberculosis case-finding. A year-round program is conducted annually in all Lee county high schools in the drive to stamp out tuberculosis.

Miss Alice Grimm, R. N., is pictured here observing the exercises being given by the mother, as taught by the physio-therapists of the Division of Services for Crippled Children, following an attack of polio suffered by the child during the past summer.

Members of the family of this patient have assumed her care under the instruction and supervision of the family physician and Mrs. Theresa McMahon, R. N., a member of the Lee County Health department staff. Public health nurses are equipped to teach families how to care for the sick in the home.

Each person who shows a positive reaction to the tuberculin test is given x-rays, either in the office of a private physician or at the Dixon Public hospital. Every draft selectee from Lee county who was rejected because of tuberculosis has received additional x-rays and a physical check-up when indicated by Nurse Marion Thomas, of the Tuberculosis association.

During the summer months of 1945, the Lee County Tuberculosis association carried out a mass x-ray program in the industries of Lee county. Under the direction of Marion Thomas, R. N., public health nurse for the Lee County Sanatorium board and Tuberculosis association, this service was a means of early case-finding in tuberculosis.

A Thought for Today

And the peaceable habitations are cut down because of the fierce anger of the Lord.
—Jeremiah 25:37.

The wounds of civil war are deeply felt.—Lucan.

Language and Meaning

One of the fundamental difficulties in the troubled sphere of international relations is, of course, the lack of a common interpretation of the same words by different nations and governments. It is, perhaps, even more troublesome than is the lack of a common language.

The example of this difficulty that comes most readily to mind is the varying conceptions of the word "democracy." The American and British definition is best and most famously expressed in the last sentence of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address. To the Russians, however, "democracy" is government of, by, and for the party—with secret police, controlled press, one-party elections, and so on.

But there are other differences.
Take, for example, the matter of "equality among nations." From the evidence at hand it would seem that among the great powers America and Britain, in particular, construe the phrase to mean that small nations have a right to be heard, to resent being pushed around, to choose their own form of government in free elections, and having chosen that form of government, to be granted equality of sovereign standing among the United Nations.

It would also seem from recent evidence that Russia considers "equality among nations" to mean an equally free hand among the powerful nations to do about as they please.

At least, "equality among nations" has been invoked in unofficial complaints from Moscow in protest against the fact that, in effect, Britain maintains armed forces in the Near, Middle, and Far East, and the United States and elsewhere, yet Russia is not considered justified in doing the same thing in Iran.

Perhaps the western democracies have not lived up to the letter or spirit of their ideal of equality among nations. Surely, the world will be a happier and more peaceful place when all foreign troops are withdrawn from every country.

Meanwhile, it can be pointed out that, in some instances, American and British forces are present on foreign soil at the request of that foreign nation's duly constituted and recognized government. In no case are they present in violation of a treaty agreement to withdraw, and despite a recognized government's protest of their presence to the United Nations.

But protests and excuses can lead to no solution in an international organization without real legal power, and, thanks to weakening compromises, without any of the first things a Hollywood reporter learns is that anybody who is somebody in this town has an unlisted telephone number. He finds this out when he tries to locate an actress who has split up with her husband, or an actor who was slugged in a barroom brawl.

But apparently the general public is not impressed with this verity.

Avid fans try to pursue their favorites via the telephone book.
As a result, peace-loving citizens who unfortunately possess famous names become the innocent victims.

Checking the latest Los Angeles telephone directory, I found: Fred MacMurray, an investment counselor. (Fred, the actor, told me on the "Suddenly It's Spring" set that he didn't even have a phone!). Oliver Hardy, an attorney; Robert Hope, a doctor; and Pat O'Brien, an insurance man. In addition, there are four Harold Lloyds, four Robert Cummings, four Robert Montgomerys, three Harry Crosbys, 24 Robert Youngs, 19 James Setwards, 15 Robert Taylors and 10 Mary Martins.

I picked up the Ameche and called some of the famous names to learn of their experiences.

Miss Betty Davis, although her name is spelled with a "Y" receives countless calls for the star.

Mrs. Walter Pidgeon has a sure cure. When admirers call and ask for Walt, she merely says "This is MRS. Pidgeon." They usually hang up.

Robert Taylor often plays along with the gag. (He did not do so, however, when he received a $300 clothing bill, intended for the star.) When Mrs. Taylor answers the phone, anxious followers ask if it is Barbara Stanwyck speaking.

After this fruitless search through the phone book, the fans then appeal to theopertors. All sorts of ingenious excuses are given in order to obtain the numbers.

They claim to be long-lost brothers and sisters, doctors, close friends, friends who have mislaid the number.

But the operators have no choice
—even when the stars themselves call. You can imagine their frustration when the operator says
"I'm sorry, but that's an unlisted number."

The name of the cauliflower is derived from the Latin "caulis" (cabbage) and "flos" (flower).

MISS SHIRLEY COOPER AND JOHN W. SELGESTAD WED AT ALTAR OF ST. PAUL'S CHURCH

Yellow snapdragons and white tulips amidst palms and white candelabras formed a beautiful semi-circle background at the altar of St. Paul's Lutheran church this afternoon at 2 o'clock when John W. Selgestad, son of Mr. and Mrs. John O. Selgestad of 908 Avery avenue, claimed Miss Shirley Cooper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale M. Cooper of 318 East Chamberlin street, as his bride. The Rev. George Curran performed the double ring ceremony in the presence of hosts of friends and guests of the Dixon couple.

Mrs. Dwight Chapman, organist, played the traditional wedding marches and Mrs. George Curran, soloist, sang "Because" and "At Dawning."

The lovely bride, escorted by her father, who gave her in marriage, chose a platinum grey wedding dress with yellow accessories for her wedding. She carried a bridal bouquet of yellow roses with white hyacinth blossoms.

Lois Selgestad, maid of honor and sister of the groom, wore a toast tan crepe dress with black and white accessories. Mixed spring flowers formed her bouquet.

Harry A. Coakley, good friend of the couple, was best man. Ronnie Cooper, brother of the bride, and Bert Fish were ushers.

For her daughters' wedding, Mrs. Cooper chose a chalk blue print dress with blue and black accessories. Mrs. Selgestad wore a navy blue suit and white accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of mixed spring flowers.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the Nachusa Hotel for 70 guests. The lovely table was decorated with yellow and white spring flowers and centered with a five-tiered wedding cake encircled with yellow daisies and adorned with a miniature bride and groom.

The bride's book was in charge of Miss Joan Hooker and Miss Darlene Lambert.

For her going away outfit the new Mrs. Selgestad chose a black and white checked bolero suit with black and white accessories. The couple left for a honeymoon trip to Canada and will be home at Dixon.

UN Council May Ask Full Report on Iran-Russia Action

New York, April 6—(AP)—Diplomatic authorities said today the United Nations Security Council probably will insist on a full report from both Russia and Iran on the agreements made to settle their dispute.

The report, based on yesterday's Tehran announcement that the two governments had agreed on troop, oil and political problems, would give the council opportunity to review the Russo-Iranian arrangements and decide whether it considered them satisfactory.

That there may be some criticism was indicated by a declaration from a member of the Australian delegation who could not be otherwise identified, who accused him of having used the security council to advance her own "political negotiations" with Russia.

He said that the Russians had protested all along they could not negotiate an oil concession so long as Russian troops were in the country yet announced yesterday an agreement on making future concessions. Even while their case was before the council, they were negotiating, he said.

Will Meet Tuesday—The council whose last previous session was held Thursday when it accepted a Russian assurance of troop withdrawals from Iran, was in week end recess today and will not meet again until Tuesday. Meanwhile, members are expected to begin work on a set of rules to govern their future proceedings.

Egyptian delegate Mahmoud Hassan Fakhri ended speculation about reports that he would make an early appeal against the presence of British troops in Egypt by saying he hoped the success of current British-Egyptian negotiations would make such action unnecessary.

The negotiations are underway in Cairo and London. Equally heartening was French ambassador Henri Bonnet's declaration that France would not present to the council the troublesome Spanish issue unless the "big price" of foreign ministers' talks to take action.

On the Iranian situation authorities considered it unlikely that any new action would come up before May 6, the date the council fixed Thursday as a possible date for looking into the situation again. All Russian troops are supposed to be out by that time.

Claims for Jobless

how:

They get $20 a week for a maximum of 52 weeks, if they've served 9 months and 16 days in the armed services.

The government, through the Veterans Administration, pays this money. Since Japan quit, it has paid out $425,000,000.

A veteran goes to a U. S. Employment Service office in his own state, reports himself jobless, but available for suitable work. If he qualifies for unemployment pay, he gets it. And he's referred to a job.

The pay to the unemployed civilians works differently.

Employers—usually of 5 or more persons—are taxed a certain percentage of their payroll—generally 2.7 per cent or less—and this money goes to their state.

The state turns the money in to the government which acts as sort of guardian for it. When the state needs to draw on it to pay out unemployment compensation, it does so.

The money in the national fund now is approximately $6,930,000,000, the weekly benefit payments are averaging somewhere around $19.21 for the nation.

In 1945, the average person getting jobless pay received it for about 8 weeks.

Since jobless people are supposed to be referred to "suitable" jobs by the state unemployment offices, many of the latter are letting people shop around for a month, job-seeking while they draw unemployment pay.

and requiring their release upon completion of that period of duty, regardless of when they were drafted.

To further complicate matters, the committee voted 10 to 9 against raising the draft age minimum from 18 to 20 years, and banned the induction of fathers and farmers.

To Stop Induction—Harness acknowledged to reporters that the purpose of his proposal was to stop inductions when the present law expires.

He said he was unconvinced that the army could not fill its manpower requirements of 1,070,000 men on July 1, 1947, without the draft.

"I believe they can do it if they will get behind the enlistment program and if congress will raise the pay rates, which we should do promptly."

Should it develop next February 5, that the Army faces a critical shortage of men, he said, "congress can do something about it then because registrations will have continued and the pool of men will have been kept available."

Chicago—(AP)—Marbles by the thousands were rolling into Michael Seltzer's home until the seven-year-old boy's mother called a halt.

Michael had told the Chicago Tribune's inquiring reporter who had asked him his favorite make-believe game, that he had no marbles but had to use rocks and "pretend they're marbles."

Sympathetic readers responded with agates, taws and glassies until Mrs. Seltzer informed the newspaper that Michael always had plenty of marbles. Michael said, "I was only pretending I didn't have any."

Radar Detected

Great Lakes, Ill.—(AP)—The Navy can't use "radar" until he's a little older. "Radar" is the nickname sailors at the naval training station gave Jesse L. Elder, 15 of Indianapolis who Master at Arms Albert F. Crevier said has been a barracks stowaway for the last 18 months. He shined shoes and odd jobs for sailors.

"Radar's" Navy career ended, for the time being anyway, when an officer discovered him and directed that he be sent home.

"Home's all right, but I like the Navy better," mourned "Radar".

Browns' Star Leaves Mexicans

Stephens Comes To Terms After Short Season for Mexico

Welcomed Back by Team, No Fine to be Made, Says Chandler

St. Louis April 6.—(AP)—Short-stop Vernon Stephens, 1945 American league homerun king, rejoined the St. Louis Browns today after a short-lived bolt to the Mexican league and was welcomed home without penalty by club and league officials and baseball commissioner A. B. Chandler.

The star infielder who made his debut in Mexico with a game-winning hit for Vera Cruz only last Sunday, showed up unheralded during the Browns' exhibition stopover in San Antonio, Tex., yesterday and quickly affixed his signature to a one-year contract.

Chandler declared that "Stephens will be in the Browns' lineup on opening day" and beckoned to other major leaguers who signed with Mexican loop clubs to return before the season's opening. Otherwise they face a five-year suspension.

Returned With Approval

American league president, William Harridge, said Stephens returned with full approval of the league and would not be penalized since he had not signed a previous contract with the Browns.

President Ford Frick of the National league expressed satisfaction that the Browns' star had returned and predicted several other major leaguers would rejoin the fold soon because "Mexican climate and living conditions are not suitable to U. S. ball players."

Browns' president, Richard C. Muckerman, who negotiated the contract in a long distance telephone conversation with Stephens, general manager Bill Dewitt and manager Luke Sewell at San Antonio, did not disclose terms but commented that the document had been signed and accepted with "mutual agreement and pleasure."

Baseball Briefs

Dallas, Tex., April 6.—(AP)—The Chicago White Sox and Pittsburgh Pirates brought their cross-country baseball exhibition tour into Dallas today with the Buccos leading 12-9 in the series. Today the White Sox will use Thornton Lee on the mound, with Nick Strincevich expected to start for Pittsburgh.

Ft. Worth, April 6.—(AP)—Bill Nicholson's job in the Chicago Cubs' right field became a bit more precarious today after the former "strong man" of the National league champions again was lifted for a pinch hitter in yesterday's 1-0 loss to the St. Louis Browns. Marvin Rickert took Nicholson's place in the outfield.

Mobile, Ala., April 6.—(AP)—Southpaw Arthur Lopatka has been sold by the St. Louis Cardinals to the Philadelphia Phillies on waivers. Lopatka won 10 and lost 13 for Columbus of the American Association last season, then had one victory for the Cards over Brooklyn late in the 1945 race.

Oshkosh All-Stars Cop First of Three Pro Title Matches

Chicago, April 6.—(AP)—The Fort Wayne Zollners, world professional basketball champions the past two years, have a real job of work to do tonight and Monday night if they're to retain their crown.

The Zollners lost the first game of the best two-of-three series to the Oshkosh Wis. All-Stars last night, 61-59, as the finals of the tournament got underway in Chicago Stadium.

They'll have to win tonight to stay in the tournament. If Oshkosh repeats its spectacular performance of last night, that kept a crowd of 11,132 snorting itself hoarse, the Zollners merely will be former champs.

With Bob Carpenter, the National Basketball League's leading scorer paring the attack, Oshkoshers had today early lead in a comparatively slow first quarter but will, less than 10 minutes of the period left, Oshkosh went ahead and held leads ranging from one to 10 points at the end.

A tight man-to-man defense that allowed but few short shots and almost no lay-ups stopped Fort Wayne.

Carpenter meanwhile pumped in 19 points to lead the Zollners.

California Doctor to Seek Wrestling Title

New York, April 6.—(AP)—Wrestling is the favorite hobby of Dr. M. A. Northrup and the San Francisco veterinarian, aiming for his fourth straight national title in the AAU championships here, isn't even thinking of giving it up, although he's been at it for 16 years.

At 37, an age when most athletes are ready to call it a day, Northrup is pointing for a berth on the U. S. Olympic team for the London games of 1948 and doesn't plan to end his career even then—win, lose or draw.

He revealed his plans after yesterday's bouts in the AAU tournament at the west side YMCA, in which he won his way to the 165-pound quarter-finals.

The field was reduced to the semi-finals in six of the ten weight divisions and the quarter-finals in the other four classes yesterday by a series of 90 bouts which ended at midnight.

The fight for the team title—undefeated by the Oklahoma City YMCA which won it at Dallas, Tex., last year—was still wide open with the Baltimore YMCA, New York Athletic Club, Newton, N. J., boys club and Davenport, Iowa, YMCA bunched at the head of the pack, according to unofficial tabulations.

Roberts and Hess Club Begins Work

Dale Ficy, acting captain of the Roberts and Hess baseball squad this season, has announced practice days which are to be every Tuesday and Friday afternoon at 5:30. The squad, made up of about 16 players so far, is beginning regular practice sessions, and will be playing a few practice games soon against the State hospital nine as soon as the hospital diamond is in shape, which should be in a week or two.

The regular season will open late in April for the Roberts and Hess outfit, with a game tentatively scheduled for April 28 with Compton. However, the local diamond at Reynolds' Field isn't in condition yet, and needs two or three weeks' work to make it ready for play.

SPORTS ROUND-UP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, April 6.—(AP)—When the Ohio State Football Coaches' Association stages an all-star game to cap an eight-day coaching school next August, the top men of the two teams will be Ohio State's Paul Bixler and Notre Dame's Frank Leahy.

There's no word yet how Bo McMillin, Fritz Crisler, etc., feel about not getting a shot at the jobs who were picked for the all-star teams last fall. The Dodgers and Yankee will put on a "Philippine Day" at next Saturday's exhibition at Ebbets Field—a change from the Mexican nights that have been plaguing Branch Rickey. Part of the dough will go toward rebuilding Jesuit schools, hospitals and churches in the Philippines. . . . North Carolina will be all hit up this summer with 32 pro baseball clubs, all playing night games.

Names Are News

The Western Michigan College ball team not only has a pitcher named Victor (which is okay) and one named shy (which isn't) but an outfield candidate is named Dayoff. A few errors and he'll get one. . . . General Pruitt, Clemson first baseman, won six battle stars in Africa, Sicily and Italy but he never got to be a general. That's just his name. . . . There's a slight case of confusion on the Penn State baseball field every time Coach Joe Bedenk fails to hear something and asks "What's that?" . . . One of his pitching candidates, Harold Wausat, comes a-tunning.

End of the Line

There's a move in the Pacific Coast League to ban pre-season exhibitions against major league clubs for a period before the start of the Coast League season. They claim it takes the edge off the openers and the customers don't even get good minor league ball. . . . After Al Severance, Villanova basketball coach, was elected a magistrate in nearby Berwyn, he told the boys, "The only speeding I want from you fellows is on the basketball floor."

ABC Tournament Facts

Bruins Counted Out of National League Battle for Pennant

New York, April 6.—(NEA)—The Cubs are the forgotten club of 1946 as the major league outfit's wheel back to their main bases.

At least you hear less of the Chicagoans than any other National League entrant with the lone exception of the Reds.

This strikes you as rather unusual masmuch as they cupped the cocoons in 1945.

Suspicion exists, however, that the Cardinals and Dodgers passed last year's pennant-winners during the winter.

The boys can't forget the lustrous World Series of last fall, in which the Wrigleys finished second to a pack of creaking Tigers when Charlie Grimm wound up with nothing more than an arm-weary Hank Borowy in the box.

The fact that the Bruins are practically standing pat knocks them galley west in the opinion of the baseball intelligentsia. James J. Carroll, the St. Louis betting commissioner, has the Cubs second choice in his book at 5-to-2, but few, if any pick the North Siders to repeat, let alone discuss them.

It is up to Bill Nicholson to give the Cubs their biggest lift. The Big Bulls' runs-batted-in production dropped off last trip when his batting average plummeted to a measly .243. That won't do, especially on the part of a right fielder, and back miseries haven't helped Old Switch in training.

Although Claude Passeau isn't getting any younger, the Cubs' pitching should be better than it was a year ago, when it was a little better than all right until it ran out of gas in the World Series. For one thing, the Bruins will have Borowy all year, and there is no good reason to suspect that the Fordham alumnus won't continue to erase the post-war variety of hitter, too.

Hi Bithorn won 18 in 1943, and Hank Wyse 22 last season. Other right-handers are Paul Erickson, Les Fleming, Hal Vandenberg and Charley Adams, who struck out 160 winning 21 in the Pacific Coast league.

Manager Grimm intends to carry six right-handers and four southpaws. The 39-year-old Ray Prim and Bob Chipman have robust left-handed competition in Russ Meers, Johnny Schmitz and Vern Olson, bright prospects out of the navy. Johnny McPartland, also out of the navy, is another crooked arm making a bid.

The Cubs have depth in catching, but Clyde McCullough, Mickey Livingston, Paul Gillespie, Bob Scheffing and Ben Warren leave them without a stickout.

The infield is the same—Cavarretta, Johnson, Merullo and Hack, although Don Johnson was a wartime arrival at second base and Len Merullo was so jittery at the windup last autumn that Roy Hughes, since shipped to the Phillies, had to stand in for him at shortstop.

Phil Cavarretta, the 1945 batting champion and most valuable player, has been handicapped this spring by an ailing throwing shoulder that necessitated X-ray treatments.

Stan Hack is no longer a springer. No other infielder—Ed Waitkus, Lou Stringer, Bob Sturgeon, Johnny Ostrowski, Alban Glossop or Cy Block—has demonstrated he belongs in this company. Waitkus lacks power. Stringer can't hit and Sturgeon has yet to prove that he can.

Andy Pafko is a center fielder of undeniable class, and left is in the capable hands of Peanuts Lowery. Marv Rickert, last with Tulsa, has caught the eye. Don Dalesandro is expected to be discharged from the army by opening day. Charley Gilbert is the lead-off man type of outfielder. Frank Secory is run-o'-mine.

The pros have returned, and not enough of them are with the Cubs.

An airplane is required by law to fly at 1000 or more feet over congested areas.

Keiser Leads Field in Georgia Tourney

Augusta, Ga., April 6.—(AP)—Herman Keiser, an ex-navy storekeeper from Akron, O., and a virtual unknown in golfing circles, today held a record-setting lead at the halfway mark of the $10,000 masters' tournament.

Discharged from the navy last September after 37 months of service, Keiser posted a four-under par 68 yesterday, which, coupled with his opening 69, gave him 137 and a five stroke margin over Jimmy Thomson of Los Angeles. Previously, the biggest 36-hole lead in the event's history was four strokes.

Except for the Miami 4-ball event which Keiser won with Chandler Harper of Portsmouth, Va., in 1942, the smooth-stroking 31-year-old ex-sailor has never won a major tournament. He had four birdies and 14 pars yesterday, for 34-31, two under on each side of the tricky 6,500-yard national golf course layout.

Thomson turned in a 70 yesterday for a two-day total of 142, putting him one stroke ahead of Clayton Heafner of Charlotte, who had a second round 69.

Tied for fourth place at 144 were Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., Bob Hamilton, Chicago; Tony Penna, Cincinnati and Chuck Harbert, Detroit.

Byron Nelson of Toledo, the defending champion, was in an eighth place tie with Jim Foulis, Chicago, and Jim Demaret, of Houston, Texas, at 145.

Bronx Boom Town on School Campus, Is Village of UNville

New York.—(AP)—Behind a high wire fence up in the Bronx, a new village has sprung to life as rapidly as a Texas oil town. Pundsters call it UNville.

Unlike other boom towns, the temporary home of the United Nations Security Council is an exclusive village, perhaps one of the most particular in the world about its population.

It had its own police, postmark, telephone exchanges, hospital, library, bank, and newspaper, besides a cafeteria and three bars. It is the home by day of more than 3,000 persons.

Little Hospitality

One thing missing at UNville, formerly the Hunter College campus, is the boom town hospitality. Stern United Nations police bar at the gates all but delegates and their staffs. UN employees, newsmen and the patient 45 of the "general public" who, after standing in line for hours, may watch each council session.

It is a polyglot town as the melting pot city which surrounds it. Stenographers from Britain and Russia mingle with clerks from China and Brooklyn.

Everything readable—signs on the green, flag-decked quadrangle, notices and publications—is lettered in both English and French, the official languages of the council.

The peace village's newspaper, "Journal of the Security Council," prints half of each page in English, the other in French.

Has Minutes of Meetings

"The Journal" carries complete texts of the previous day's meeting and is edited by Enile Delavene of France and a staff of six.

Vienna-born Elizabeth Colmers, head nurse at the four-bed emergency hospital, speaks three tongues.

UNville's police chief is a stocky, ruddy-cheeked onetime Connecticut state trooper named Frank Begley. His 35 UN security police—platoonsmen—are backed up by 75 veteran Marines and 300 New York city patrolmen, who guard the fence from the outside.

Begley's UN cops have kept UNville safe and sane. If a questionable character slips through, though, they have but two choices: throw him back out into the Bronx or call in the city police.

UNville has no jail.

Useless

Philadelphia.—(AP)—For six straight evenings, Dominick Guerra's automobile disappeared from in front of his barber shop. He always found it later, abandoned a few blocks away.

Tired of keeping track of the car, Guerra sold it. Two days later he got a package in the mail. It contained five duplicate ignition keys and an unsigned note reading:

"Now you've sold your car, we'll have no further use for these."

Massac County to Have Army Veterans' Ticket

Metropolis, Ill., April 6.—(AP)—An ex-WAC and five former "Joos" of World War II today comprised an all-veteran Democratic ticket in the Massac County primary April 9. Oldtimers termed it the first complete Democratic ticket since the war between the states. A former WAC staff sergeant, Mary A.
